MARSHFIELD, Ore., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Twenty thousand residents of flame-ravaged southwestern Oregon placed on winds tonight the fate of their homes as they heard grimly that nine lives and possibly 15 had been lost when forest fires laid waste the village of Bandon.

With so many fires burning in a 400,000-acre area forest officials, both federal and state, said it was "impossible" to say how many acres had been damaged.

A state policeman at the village of Coquille, glancing up at skies so black that day looked like night, voiced the fear of many:

"If the wind changes, God help this place and (near-by) Myrtle Point. They'll go like Bandon did."

The wind, however, had died down tonight, bringing encouragement to the 5,000 fire fighters and hope that other cities would be spared the destruction that visited Bandon. Bandon, in an hour Saturday night, was transformed into a pretty little coastal port south of home an inferno in which virtually the entire population of 1,500 saw possessions of a lifetime go up in roaring flames.

Other Fires Spread.

In the small coastal towns of Oregon and sections of northern California literally hundreds of fires broke out, caused principally in the opinion of Associate United States Forest E. H. Brundage, Portland, by burning of slashings—debris left from timber operations.

Among the sections menaced were some of the greatest timber treasures in the world—the irreplaceable redwoods of northern California, which were old when Christ was born. Foresters pointed out, however, that Lois Bolton, about 18, of 834 Virginia street, N. E., was killed late last night on the northeast highway, 10 miles below Cook's Crossing, when she was thrown from a motorcycle which was crowded off the road by a passing automobile.

The motorcycle was driven by Bill Brown, of 607 Washington street, N. W. Brown also was thrown from his machine, but he was only slightly hurt. Miss Bolton was riding on the rear of the machine.

The young woman was taken to A. C. Hemperley & Sons establishment by a motorist who gave his name as E. Hart, and from there was taken to Grady hospital in a private ambulance. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Grady.

Occupants of the automobile were not identified.

Complaisant Husband of Edward's Favorite Forsook U. S.
for British Citizenship, Now Considers Invitation a

This is the second article in a series dealing with the romances of English royalty. It is an account of the life of Ernest Simpson, husband of King Edward VIII's favorite.

By JANE DIXON.
(Copyright, 1936, by North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

What of Mr. Ernest Simpson?

Curiosity about the husband of King Edward VIII's favorite woman companion is second only to that displayed in the unofficial first lady of England herself. In many quarters Mr. Simpson is interest No. 1.

He is an Anglo-American. Perhaps it would be better to name him an American-Anglo since he was born in New York, May 1, 1898. He lived at 50 West 55th street. He "prepped" at the Hill school, Pottstown, Pa., spent two years at Harvard as an undergraduate and then went to London, where his father had established a shipping agency. There, in 1918, he enlisted in the Cold Stream Guards, crack English regiment, and shortly was commissioned a first lieutenant. He must have had rather a sketchy

RUSSELL REPORTS
COST OF CAMPAIGN

Senator Files $32,671.14
as Total Expense for Drive for Re-election.

Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., last night revealed that he expended $32,671.14 in his successful campaign for re-election in the Democratic white 3 general election ballot.

The junior senator disclosed his expenditures in a sworn statement prepared for submission today to Comptroller General Homer C. Parker. He dispatched the report to Atlanta from his home at Winter Haven before leaving for Washington to attend to official business.

The report was made public shortly after Judge Blanton Fortson, of Athens, unsuccessful candidate for governor, reported his expenses. Judge Fortson was the first candidate for major office to disclose his counting. Others will figure in the primary, will report today, the final day for submission of campaign expenditures under the law.

Contributed by Friends.

Senator Russell did not list the individual contributors to his campaign, although he reported that practically the entire amount was contributed by his friends.

In addition to the outlay of $4,125.82 for radio broadcasts, contributed by friends in the region, the broadcasts originated, the senator reported the following expenses:

Entrance fee, $25; printing, multiplication, and distribution of literature, $11,405.25; postage and express, $3,699.41; telephone and telegraph, $1,379.86; salaries and office expenses, $2,072.97; advertising, $3,229.21; travel and hotel expense, $1,921.97; sound equipment, $1,214.74; radio, $4,201.97.

Fortson's Statement.

Judge Fortson reported he spent $318.00 in his campaign.

Fortson's statement showed contributions to his campaign fund from more than 200 persons. Among those who contributed larger amounts were:

Philip Welnier, leader in the movement which nominated Judge Fortson

Emory, Opened for '36-'37 Session, To Mark Centennial in December

Growth of Methodist Institution Traced Briefly From Small Beginning in 1836 to University of Broad Scope of Educational Service.

Emory University, largest of the 1838. Instruction has been continuous since then.

The present institution in Atlanta began operations in 1916 when the first law classes were held. In 1919, with enrollment estimated by officials at approximately 2,000—about the same as last year.

The centennial exercises, to be celebrated from December 11 to 13, mark the granting of the first charter to the institution December 10, 1836. Classes, however, did not begin until

"ALL-BRAN KEEPS ME IN SHAPE EVERY DAY"

"When I had eaten a heavy breakfast, I would feel logy. After a couple of days of this, I would have to take a laxative."

"One morning I had a dish of ALL-BRAN. Believe me, it beats any laxative, as it keeps me in shape every day."—Wm. C. Billings, 1330 19th St., Denver, Colorado.

Why put up with half-sick days, when a delicious cereal will make you feel so good? Because ALL-BRAN has "bulk" which absorbs moisture within the body. Then gently sponges out your system, wipes away the listlessness, the "blues," the headaches.

Scientific tests prove this natural food is both safe and effective—worlds better than taking patent medicines. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Take it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Serve as a cereal or use in cooking. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

BUILDING PERMITS.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 28.—(P)

Bulldozing permits issued here during the past week for new construction and repair work total approximately 18 months.

When Sims finished this assignment, Roosevelt declared:

"Commander Sims has done more for target practice than any other man in the United States."

In 1908, as the American navy was ready for its memorable cruise around the world, Sims, through a friend, caused to be published a series of articles attacking the construction of American war ships. The controversy

thus created brought a storm of public comment.

The senate and higher naval officers

took steps to punish Sims.

President Roosevelt ordered all charges dropped.

From that date naval construction underwent many changes, in line with Sims' off-the-wall suggestions.

Commanded Fleet.

When the World War broke out,

Sims was president of the War College.

He was assigned to command destroyers operating from British bases. Later, with the rank of vice admiral, he commanded a larger fleet and finally was given the title of commander, United States naval forces operating in European waters.

Before the war ended he was promoted to the rank of admiral and given command of all American warships in the war zone.

He reverted to the rank of rear admiral at the close of the war.

June 21, 1930, he was given the permanent rank of admiral.

After the war he resumed his criticism of American naval methods.

He declined to accept the Distinguished Service Medal, maintaining the medal

had been conferred on men who were not deserving of it and denied others who earned it.

Sims was born at Port Hope, Cana-

ROOSEVELT GRIEVED OVER DEATH OF SIMS

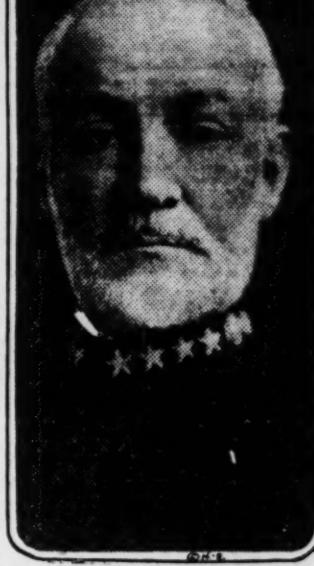

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 28.—(P)

President Roosevelt said tonight

the death in Boston of Admiral William S. Sims, retired, who commanded American naval forces in European waters during the World War, ended a remarkable period of service to his country.

His statement follows:

"I was deeply grieved at the news of the sudden death in Boston tonight of Admiral William S. Sims, U. S. N., retired.

"His death marks the closing of a brilliant and glorious career in the service of his country. He was a man of remarkable period of service to his country. Dynamic and forceful, he was admired and respected by friends and foes alike."

FARLEY IS CONFIDENT OF F.D.R.'S RE-ELECTION

Democratic Record in State Reviewed in New York Convention.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 28.—(P) James F. Farley, Democratic state and national chairman, told the Democratic state convention today that there never was a time in the history of the party when there was "more reason for confidence."

"You are gathered here in an atmosphere of confidence born of repeated success," he declared. "You are facing an election in which that record of success will be continued."

"We have won the confidence of the people because our principles are their principles, our ideals are their ideals and our enemies their enemies."

He said in the coming election is "a great referendum on questions of great public policy."

Farley reviewed the record of Democratic administrations in the state since 1928, praising the three governors, Alfred E. Smith, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Herbert H. Lehman, without mentioning them by name, for their honesty and their humane policies.

"I defy anyone," he said, "to show an example of state government, present or past, that has been so free of even minor infractions of public integrity as is the state of New York in contrast with the states we have been entrusted with power."

He said the Democratic party "has been governed by a profound recognition that good government must be protected."

Protected Weak.

"We have not only protected the weak members of society in their rights, but we have done it without denying to the more fortunate members of society the rights to which they are entitled. We have helped the weak and the poor without creating class distinctions."

"A man's far greater stake is involved when we go to the polls next November than a mere election of the chief magistrate of the nation," he declared.

"After all, leaders, even great leaders, live in history not for their own qualities, but as a sign of great ideals and purposes. Washington as the symbol of a nation saving itself; Lincoln, as a symbol of a nation saving itself from breaking apart; and Franklin Roosevelt, as a symbol of a nation saving itself from economic ruin."

The weather bureau dug back to 1895 to find a September snowstorm that would compare with today's. On September 22, 1895, 11 inches of snow fell in the city, far less than in the present storm.

There were 14 fires in Denver, most of them caused by power lines. One caused $50,000 damage to a sand and gravel plant.

On nearly every residential street in Denver trees were broken across power and electric lines and made traffic hazardous. Street car schedules were disrupted. Buses supplanted trolley cars in several districts.

The weather bureau forecast a second snowfall in the mountains of Colorado, but in Wyoming where snow fell over the weekend, the skies were clearing. Officials of airlines said travel was hampered on the east-west line through southern Wyoming.

'READY FOR ANY STEP, JAPANESE WARN CHINA

Foreign Minister's Statement Regarded as Strongest in Years.

TOKYO, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Hachiro Arita, Japanese foreign minister, warned today the Japanese army and navy "are ready to carry out whatever measures are necessary to suppress the anti-Japanese campaign." Arita assured the Foreign Office he had conferred three times with the Chinese ambassador to impress upon him the grave consequences which might follow if Japan's demands are not answered.

(The Tokyo government, following upon a series of incidents during the past month in which five Japanese were killed and four others injured allegedly as the result of government-fomented bitterness, has demanded added protection for its nationals in China.)

Arita declared existing Sino-Japanese relations could not be permitted to drift in the same poorly-defined manner as at present.

"I very earnestly hope China will grasp our preferred hand," Arita continued, "whatever difficulties she may have to surmount."

Are any specific developments or factors on which one might base hope the situation can be settled diplomatically?" Arita was asked.

"As a diplomat," he answered, "I am obliged to say I have such hope but it all rests on the sincerity of the Nanking (Chinese central government) officials."

Neutral observers regarded Arita's

Thousands of sufferers from itching, bleeding or protruding piles have learned that quick and lasting relief can be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor cutting relieve the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower rectum causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts lifeless. To end piles an internal medicine should be used to stimulate the circulation, and restore the affected parts.

ACE ITALIAN PILOT DIES AS AIRPLANE CRASHES

ROME, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Guido Stellingwerf, one of Italy's best known pilots and managing editor of the Sunday newspaper, Voce D'Italia, and three aviation officers were killed today when their fast, motorized plane crashed at Cagliari, Sardinia.

Stellingwerf piloted the ship. He had been flying for six years and held the world's record for multi-motored tourist planes over a 1,000-kilometer course.

He was president of the Italian anti-aircraft protection organization.

A cause of the accident was not determined. The crash was with terrific speed and one of the plane's three motors was found one-third mile from the wreckage.

DEMOCRATIC BODY FILES ITS REPORT

Cost of Two City Primaries Set at $10,024.67 by Committee.

City Democratic executive committee members collected $10,050 as entrance fees from candidates in the regular and run-over municipal primaries, according to a report of receipts and expenditures filed yesterday in the office of City Clerk Joe Richardson.

Primary expenses, including the holding of elections, a $1,481.25 refund, and the payment of all other incidentals, were $10,024.67, and a residue of $25.33 remains in the treasury.

The original primary cost $2,682.50 and the runover $1,924, according to the report. In addition, printing cost $277.75 for the first primary and more than $100 for the second. A total of $456.03 was expended in mailing out envelopes to voting voters where to cast their ballots on the new precinct voting plan.

STABILIZATION COMES NEARER

The French parliament will no doubt approve the proposal of the government to devalue the franc to a gold basis comparable to that on which the dollar and pound now rest.

It means the first definite approach to the stabilization of the principal currencies of the world, the lack of which has been the greatest stumbling block in the way of the return of worldwide confidence and prosperity.

Great Britain and the United States have for years sought an agreement with France such as the latter nation now proposes, only to be met with constant rebuffs by the French and their allies among the smaller European nations.

With the financial phase of her economic structure in chaotic condition, France comes to the United States and Britain agreeing, because of their own extremity, to the one step most necessary for the rehabilitation of worldwide trade.

The Russian, German and Italian currencies do not now, because of their control by dictatorial governments and their lack of gold backing, play an important part in world currencies, the dominant ones being the American dollar, the English pound, the French franc, and, to a somewhat lesser extent, the Japanese yen. With the three former stabilized, on a level fair to all, there can be little doubt that the Japanese will either voluntarily, or through pressure, bring the yen
in line.

No country will be more greatly benefited by stabilization than the United States. Our export trade will be given new impetus when the buyers of the world can place orders, either for immediate or future delivery, confident that currency fluctuations may not bring losses on transactions that otherwise would represent sound profits.

During the years of universal world prosperity, the world's currencies maintained an approximately permanent relation to each other,
making it possible for merchants in one country to sell to those in another with as much certainty as to the buying power of the medium of payment they would receive as if they were trading with merchants in their own country.

Then came the era of fluctuating values of currencies, with the European nations, for selfish and other reasons, constantly changing the value of their money.

It is not to be expected that worldwide stabilization will take place overnight, despite the fact that the three dominant currencies have been placed on a fair basis.

The problems are too intricate, and the determination of just what relation each currency should bear to others, too difficult, to permit of hurried adjustment.

The main thing now is that the chief stumbling block in the way of stabilization—the refusal to co-operate by France and her allies—has been removed and the way seems to be cleared to a resumption of the currency standards that in former years made international trade safe and profitable.

A recent sad case was that of a New Yorker buried under a truckload of onions. They say there wasn't a dry eye in the rescue squad.

An Illinoisan insurance writer is suspected of an attempt to kidnap an executive of his company. But what kind of a policy is that?

Naturally, when wars are fought in the air, no non-combatant will be safe. While watching a battle in the clouds, someone will lift the watch.

Aside from a tendency to pick up trash, the mechanical cotton picker could stand improvement. It can't breathe on the dice and roll a seven.

SPENDING HERE AND ABROAD

The comprehensive survey prepared by the Associated Press of the huge sum being spent by European nations for armaments striking contrast between governmental spending abroad and in the United States.

This government is also expending large sums, but we are spending for prosperity and Europe for war, from which even the winner loses in the long run.

France has made two appropriations totaling more than a billion dollars, as an emergency armament building fund in addition to its normal military budget. Great Britain has a military budget calling for more than a billion dollars for armaments, and parliament has authorized the expenditure of four billion dollars on the air force.

Germany is accredited with having spent more than eight billion on the development of its new army and defenses—boldly declared by Hitler to be the equal of the war strength of any other nation.

Italy has not revealed its military expenditures, but they are in all probability higher than those of France and Great Britain. Russia boasts the possession of the largest army in Europe and its maintenance and arming must have cost the Russian people millions and labor other billions of dollars.

Russia has more than 10,000,000
in her standing army and reserves, Italy more than 9,000,000, Germany more than 1,300,000, in her standing army and other active military organizations alone, Great Britain nearly 8,000,000, and Great France
a half million.

These totals of billions of dollars and millions of armed men are hugely increased by the expenditures and armed forces of such nations as Poland, Rumania and the smaller middle and eastern European nations.

All of these billions and the millions of men either actually under arms or being trained for military service are for the destructive purposes of war. They are the result of the hatreds, fears, jealousies and misalignments originating in the outcome of the World War.

Even if war does not come in Europe, the burden of these expenditures must be borne by this and future generations. If it does come, to this burden will be added the further burden of widespread destruction.

The spending of the American government has also reached new heights during the past three years, but the dollar and the enlisted men from the army of the unemployed have been to wage war on depression—a war that has been carried through to a victorious conclusion and the results of which have been constructive rather than destructive.

LANDON'S HANDICAP.

Representative Marvin Jones, of Texas, chairman of the house committee on agriculture and speaker of the speakers' bureau of the Roosevelt all-party agriculture committee, succinctly outlined in a recent statement the two outstanding reasons why the farmers of the country will prefer Roosevelt to Landon in the fall elections.

In the first place, Representative
Jones cites:

In two and a half years, not only was the price of farm commodities greatly increased, but there was paid to American farmers $1,500,000,000 in benefit payments. In spite of the drought, the national farm income increased from $5,300,000,000 in 1932 to $8,100,000,000 in 1935 and to approximately $8,500,000,000 for the year ending September 1, 1936.

Referring to the Landon candidates, the Texas congressmen comments:

I have no objection to Governor
Landon. I think he is a good man.
But let us look at the company he is keeping. He is backed by the Liberty League. The great financiers are behind him.

Trimmed of political furor, the campaign for the farmers' votes being waged by the Republicans cannot be expected to be successful under these conditions.

The farmer as a rule is frugal and hard-working, and he generally votes for the party he believes will make his life easier and his profits greater.

Whatever the faults of the AAA,
it has revolutionized the affairs of the farmers—while the unfeasted Hoover farm board simply made matters worse.

Claims to the contrary, there can be no doubt under these conditions of how the great majority of the farmers will vote in November. I.C.U.'s

Loon Lake

Setting of Tragedy

With a terrifying roar, an avalanche plunged from rocky cliffs nearly a mile high into the still waters of Loon Lake, western Norway, recently. The wave that followed was reported to have been as high as the Capitol building at Washington. It took a toll of more than 70 lives and nearly wiped out two villages near the head of the lake.

"Loon lake, an extension of a series of waterways leading inland from Nord fjord, is no stranger to disaster,"
says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. "Many inhabitants of the region recall a similar tragedy in 1905, when 81 persons lost their lives."

"In 1934 nearly 50 persons were drowned by giant waves set up in the same manner at Tafjord, a few miles northeast of Loon lake."

Famed Among Travelers.

"Loon lake is famous among travelers and guides as one of the most beautiful of many long, narrow, stone-ringed fingers of water along the rugged, mountainous coastline of western Norway. A barrier of rock separates it from the main fjord and the sea, raising it to a height of some 280
feet above sea level."

"Visitors and fishermen generally approach the lake by boat, landing at the village of Loon, at the head of the fjord. From there to Lake Loon they follow a modern road, paralleling a dashing stream that serves as an outlet of the lake."

"The lake is deep and green, along the shore soon give way to a strip of firs and beeches. Above them soar sheer rocky heights, topped by snow-clad peaks and glaciers. The scenery is grand and impressive, and scores of beating precipices, dashed waterfalls and the steamer plows along, leaving rippling furrows on the pale green surface of the water."

Lake 10 Miles Long.

"The lake itself is about 10 miles long. Except for a few knifelike rather, it is entirely surrounded by huge peaks rising 5,000 feet high,
with mountain peaks towering 10,000 to 12,000 feet above the cliffs. Between many of the peaks huge glaciers descend, but all of them are transformed into waterfalls before they reach the sea. When clouds hang over the lake, these falls seem to drop out of the mist."

One of the most spectacular sights in western Norway is a glacier which periodically breaks off from the brow of a cliff on the western shore of the lake. In summer large masses of ice are detached, plunging a sheer 3,000 feet into the water, sending a thunderous roar across the lake. The fragments are spread out in a great fan-shaped pile below."

"Most impressive of the lake's rock walls is the steep, serrated face of Ravnefjeld, which is bounded by the avalanches that caused the terrible disasters. Near the southeast end of the lake, this steep 6,575-foot cliff faces three of the principal hamlets of the region and a number of scattered gardens, or homesteads, whose inhabitants sometimes do not see the sun at all during the winter months."

"The villages of Nossedal and Bødal, which were reported virtually destroyed by the recent slide, hug the shore across the lake from the Ravne-fjeld. These again felt the full force of the giant waves set up by the tons of ice that had been moved up the shore since the 1905 catastrophe, but still not far enough."

"The principal industries of the region are fishing and catering to summer visitors. The villages are ideal holiday spots for mountain climbers who wish guides for the ascent of the many peaks and glaciers above the lake. Trout and salmon are abundant."

Widow Thought Old Book Worthless Sells It for $200

Mrs. Amelia Bell, San Diego, California, a widow, discovered a book printed in 1876 among the effects of her late husband. She had no idea it was worth anything until she sent it to the American Book Mart's latest price list and found her book described there. Imagine her joy when she sold it to them for $200.00. She writes, "I never dreamed I would receive $200.00 for it. Was I overjoyed? I'll say so!" You too may have valuable old books in your home—stored away in old trunks, attic, or basement. The American Book Mart, the largest company of its kind in the United States, wants to buy thousands of old books of all kinds (bibles, almanacs, old letters, etc.) old newspapers and magazines. Many published only five or six years ago are valuable. A single book that looks worthless may bring you $50—$100—$500—or even $6,000 in cash! Is there a fortune hidden among your old books? Better investigate now! Send 10c today to American Book Mart, 140 S. Dearborn St., Dept. NR-12, Chicago, Ill., and they will send you latest list of old books they want to buy and the prices they will pay!

Separation of Young, Hardened Criminals Urged

Segregation of young first offenders from old-time criminals was agreed upon yesterday at a conference between the prison commission and Fulton county leaders. Participants in the conference were shown in the above photograph. Seated from left to right are Elmer L. Stanley, foreman of the grand jury; Chairman G. A. Johns, of the prison commission; Vice Chairman V. L. Stanley, of the commission, and A. R. Dorsen, member of the grand jury. Standing (left to right) are John W. are co-operating in the drive against narcotics, transporters and salesmen of liquor on which no federal tax has been paid. In the four states, 95 agents are under the command of King and Mrs. Simpson, their royal highness the Duke and Duchess of York, the first lord of the admiralty and Lady Maude Hoare, the Viceroy of India and Lady Wallis Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. Winston Churchill.

Unofficially, Bessie Wallis Simpson was hostess for King Edward VIII, of Britain, as she has been many times in his secluded Barratt villa, in his country retreat at Fort Belvedere, near London, on his yachts and at tables in smart night clubs in streets, alleys and highways in Georgia alone.

Police, Agents Co-operate.

16 suspects rounded up in the second drive in Atlanta were captured by City Director of Welfare McGee, and Federal Agent Edward Murphy. No charges were made, the suspect merely being booked on "suspicion" of having violated state or city narcotics laws. All are said to be known addicts.

From Washington, it was announced yesterday, 2,500 law enforcement officers are participating in the drive against crime and that results will be announced from Washington after the end of the three-day round-up.

King Can Do No Wrong. Mr. Simpson's friends dub him "King" and "Simpie," "no double entendre" and insist that he is adhering to the role of kings—which is that a royal invitation is tantamount to a command and that a king can do no wrong.

By the American standard, the complaisant husband of the king's favorite may appear something of a dud. It is rumored that his family insists he do something about it. Keyhole peepers say he gets a kick out of the crumbs that fall from the royal table and that he thrives in reflected glory. Maybe so.

ERNEST SIMPSON EXPECTED IN U. S.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(F)—There were conflicting reports in New York today on whether Ernest Aldrich Simpson, friend and frequent companion of King Edward VIII, of England, was en route here.

The New York Journal reported he was expected here today aboard one of three ships arriving from England, but advice from London said he was still in England.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Jacques Raffray, intimate friend of Mrs. Simpson, and who arrived from a visit with the latter only a few days ago, said, "I think the faintest idea where Mr. Simpson is to have no idea whether or not he is coming."

Mrs. Raffray, wife of a New York insurance man, went abroad in March and visited with Mrs. Simpson in London until the middle of April.

Mrs. Dorothy Parsons Simpson, first wife of Mr. Simpson, went to the country in the weeks after their marriage to prolong her stay there. She heads an employment agency on Madison Avenue, and was a girlhood friend in Baltimore of the present Mrs. Simpson.

SIMPSON IS ANGERED OVER WIFE'S ACTIONS

LONDON, Sept. 28.—(F)—Reports Ernest Aldrich Simpson, husband of King Edward's frequent companion had arrived in the United States to institute divorce proceedings against his wife, were characterized today in well-informed quarters as absurd.

Friends said Simpson, who was reportedly angered by his wife's friendship for Edward VIII, disclosed he had visited a London nursing home today where his father, head of Simpson, Spence & Young, of New York insurance agents, is ill. The younger Simpson returned to London September 22 from a continental business trip.

Since then authoritative sources said he has visited his father each day and has talked by telephone with his wife, who is one of the king's guests at his Scottish castle, Balmoral.

It was pointed out Simpson is a British subject and has no American domicile.

DOLLAR-POUND RATIOS OMITTED FROM ACCORD

Morgenthau Denies Any Definite Agreement With Great Britain.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Secretary Morgenthau today said the three-power monetary accord embraced "no definite agreement" on what exchange ratio the dollar should bear to pounds sterling.

Mr. Morgenthau flatly refused to comment on a statement by the Russian State Bank denying it had offered 1,000,000 pounds "at any price" Saturday in an effort to hammer down sterling. Morgenthau said $5,000,000 from the standard fund to half a dozen in the price of sterling when the Russian offer was made.

Asked whether the war debt question entered into the accord between Great Britain, France and the United States, Morgenthau said that it did not.

He declined to answer other interrogations as to whether the agreement might not lay a foundation for reconsideration of the question.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Wall Street viewed the international monetary situation with optimism today and prices closed for the most part moderately higher in the New York Stock Exchange.

After an initial flurry of buying, the stock market settled dull. Most leading issues finished with gains of a few cents to more than $1 a share.

LONDON DISTURBED.

LONDON was disturbed by talk of possible selling by French investors buying the pound higher after devaluation is completed, but this aspect made only for caution in Wall Street, where the view was held that international tension Europe would prevent any early repatriation of foreign funds here.

Foreign exchange dealings remained largely at a standstill, although there was active trading in British pounds, which slid down 2.3-8 cents to 84.9-3-8 compared with last week's two-day low of 87.1-4.

Some small dealings in the French franc were reported around 5.20 cents, compared with 5 to 5.10 cents Saturday, and the recent parity of 6.83 cents.

SITUATION ELSEWHERE.

ITALY.—The government ordered the banks closed Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. No plans for devaluation of the lira are being considered, it is indicated, but many believe the government will permit the lira to depreciate gradually so that the tourist lira particularly will be permitted to cheapen. Tourist offices today were refusing Swiss, Dutch and French exchanges.

GERMANY.—Reichsbank central committee will meet Wednesday to hear Dr. Hjalmar Schacht report on the currency situation. No change is expected.

LATVIA.—Decided to abandon the gold standard effective Tuesday.

GREECE.—The drachma will be placed on a ratio of 540 to 350 to the sterling.

ENGLAND.—Gold rose to 140 shillings 9 pence, the highest in English money since May 2, but sterling dropped to 84.9-3-8, marking the American equivalent lower. Stock exchanges at opening of market under lead of gold mining issues. Excited early foreign exchange trading although no quotations on the French franc, Swiss franc and Holland guilder.

ATLANTAN IS JAILED
BY PITTSBURGH POLICE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 28.—(AP)—A man giving the name of Edgar Arwood, 29, of Atlanta, was arrested here today on complaint of Mrs. Marion McCurdy. She said she found the man in her apartment.

Police Chief William J. Kane said the man admitted "jimming" the door when nobody answered the doorknob. Police pursued and arrested him on description. He was charged with breaking and entering.

Edgar Arwood is not listed in the Atlanta city directory and he is not known by Arwood families here.

Scientists say bulls are color blind and that consequently a red flag anger them no more than one of another color.

Mission Board Members Fete Dr. Lawrence

Outlining a three-point conservation program, being presented by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce of America, Walter E. Holman, national president, yesterday called on Georgians to unite and give careful consideration to the problems under discussion.

Holman was the honor guest and principal speaker at a luncheon held at the Atlanta Athletic Club and attended by members of the local junior chamber and business leaders from all sections of the state.

Conservation of youth, of natural resources and the taxpayer comprise the program, he said. Mr. Holman, who organized out that real youth, through educational training, is the only solution of crime. He declared intelligent thought must be given to conserving the fast-waning natural resources of the country, and added that the tax collector has failed to impress posterity to pay are real problems.

During his discussion of the tax problems, he asserted there are 179,000 tax assessing agencies in the United States alone, and that 25 per cent of all earnings go to pay taxes. He said that one-third of the independent local units and national governments are for "dead horses" projects which already have served their usefulness.

Dade Kelley, vice president of the junior chamber, presided over the luncheon meeting, and George Yancey, former president of the body, presented Mr. Holman.

It was announced during the day that Mr. Holman has named three Atlantans to important national committees during his visit here on a tour of junior chamber units of the United States.

B. C. Schenck was designated a member of the aviation committee; Howard Wilson, co-chairman of the get-out-the-vote committee, and Herbert Hayes, member of the crime committee.

Mr. Holman left last night for Greenville, Sisquabang and Chatsworth, and will continue his tour to the east from those places.

My Day
By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sunday.—We spent a part of Saturday morning in New York city having a quiet breakfast in our apartment. Then I sallied forth and in a brief two hours, I think, ordered all my winter clothes.

I hope so, for the next few months on my calendar look so busy that I know I shall find myself in the midst of winter like "Flora McFlimsey, of Washington Square, with nothing to wear" figuratively speaking, of course. The real trouble is that I must always have something new, which seems to me utterly unnecessary, but I suppose it is one of the demands of White House life.

After shopping, we took the train to Poughkeepsie and my youngest son met me at the station. Because we lunched on the train it never occurred to me that our arrival would interfere with his lunch, and I was horrified to learn that he had had nothing to eat.

As usual, there were many guests at the house, and so I said a hurried greeting to my husband and my mother-in-law and all the guests, in order not to delay them any longer than possible. I left them and went over to the cottage to get some of the mail, which has accumulated up here, cleared up.

By 5 o'clock I was back with my mother-in-law and my husband, for we had about 10 people come in between 5 and 6 just to "say a few words" to the President.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil O'Connor spent the night, and some other friends who had come up for dinner did not know just where they wanted to stay. I took them over to my weaving rooms, for there I have two extra guest rooms. Nelly Johansen is always ready to look after anyone who wishes to occupy them, so they decided they preferred these accommodations to any hotel. After dinner they went over, and I found them very happily ensconced this morning when I stopped in to look at them to make sure they were comfortable.

My mother-in-law has four great-grandchildren staying at the house, two grandsons, and my daughter and her husband. So even a big house is fairly full.

This morning the President and his mother went to church, but I decided that a little fresh air was probably wise for me, particularly as the number of people coming for lunch seemed to change every few minutes. I think the final number of guests will be 16. I may, however, be mistaken, for I have been over at the cottage for a short while and when I return to the house I may find that several more have been added. When the President is home guests spring out of the ground!

Griffin Marriages Are Announced

GRIFFIN, Ga., Sept. 28.—Miss Katie Lee Mitchell became the bride of James Edwards Evans of Friday evening, the Rev. Granlund Middlebrooks officiating at his home near here and relatives and close friends witnessed the ceremony. The lovely bride wore a smart model of royal blue with fashion belt and tunic and worn with navy blue accents and a shoulder cluster of bride's roses and tuberoses. Following the ceremony, Mrs. J. T. Mitchell, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Gen. Hollis entertained with dinner at Mrs. Hollis' home, Mr. and Mrs. Evans' former home, to north Georgia and Tennessee. Afterward they will reside with Mrs. Mitchell in Griffin. Mrs. Evans is the daughter of Mrs. Mitchell and the late Mr. Mitchell. She attended Griffin schools and was graduated from Spalding High school in 1926. Mr. Evans is the son of Mrs. Daniel Evans and the late Mr. Evans, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and attended school in Chattanooga, being an outstanding athlete. He holds a position in the shipping department of the Highland Mill Co., a star on the Highland baseball team.

The marriage of Miss Paul Padgett and Hoses Lynch, of Griffin, was performed on Saturday with Judge S. B. Wallace, ordinary of Spalding county, officiating at his home. The bride wore navy blue crepe with matching accessories. The groom is the daughter of Mrs. Annie Padgett and the late L. B. Padgett. Mr. Lynch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lynch of Brooks, and is a promising young farmer. He and his bride will live on his farm near Griffin.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. H. Head of Griffin, announced the marriage of their daughter, Mildred, to Jack Conkle, the ceremony having been performed by Judge Allen Kemper, ordinary of Clayton county, at his home in Jonesboro on September 10. Both Mr. Conkle and his bride are Spalding students at Spalding High school in Griffin. They are residing with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Conkle, near Griffin.

Tea For Miss Thomas Carries On Tradition of Uncle Remus Group

By Sally Forth.

HERE is an interesting story behind the news that the Uncle Remus Memorial Association will entertain a tea for Ida Thomas prior to her marriage. Carrying out the tradition which had its inception when the memorial association was formed that a party would honor bride-elect daughters of members, Ida will be complimented on October 8 as the daughter of Mrs. Claude C. Smith whose work and interest in the association has been outstanding and who is held in high esteem by her co-workers. So it is with a gesture of sentiment that plans and preparations are under way to make the party next week one of the unusual and interesting of the series given the year.

Guests invited Saturday to the Driving Club by Mrs. MacGregor at her tea which honored Ida were not prepared to witness a few guests present, the entire bridal party was there, and Ida de- cided that it would be quite apropos to have each attendant rehearse her part. They were grouped according to height, and club members dropping by for a late afternoon refreshment were a bit confused as 16 pretty girls paraded like manikins in a fashion show about the club. And to make the occasion all the more bridelike the hostess gave each guest a bouquet of red roses upon which hung miniature white satin slippers with the name of each guest inscribed on the heel.

THE W. R. C. Smith residence will be a house divided these days as members of this interesting family group are in various parts of the United States. This week Mrs. Smith and Elmer leave for New York where the latter will enter the Grand Central Art School for the coming year to perfect her talent in portrait painting. Joyce Smith is in Memphis visiting Mrs. Stuart Buxton, whom Atlanta remembers as Lydia Burgess. She and Joyce were classmates at Hollins College and Lydia has made many friends here upon the occasion of her frequent visits with Joyce at her Inman Circle home.

Mrs. Smith will remain with her daughter in New York until the latter is settled for the coming year. Before returning, she will visit in Boston and later will spend some time with her daughter, Mrs. B. Clark Carter, in Harrisburg, Pa. Youthful members of society will bid a reluctant goodbye to Elmer, and will look forward to her return for the Christmas holidays.

Memorial Group To Unveil Tablet.

Ladies' Memorial Association met recently at the home of Mrs. John L. Harper, with Mrs. Arthur McD. Wilson Jr., president, presiding. Plans were discussed for the unveiling of the bronze tablet on the Walker monument.

The association, this monument has been moved from its former site, where it was erroneously placed, to the spot where General W. T. Walker was killed.

The plot upon which the monument stands was deeded to the city by the owners, and it was made a city park. The tablet will be dedicated at the unveiling of the monument will take place at an early date.

Mrs. Wilbur G. Kuritz gave a report on the convention of the Confederate Memorial Association in Shreveport, La., in June.

While the meeting was in session news came of the passing of Mrs. G. H. Brandon, for years a faithful member of the organization. The association rose in silent prayer, and immediately adjourned out of respect for this beloved member.

College Park News.

The garden division of the College Park Woman's Club met recently with Mrs. D. A. Noland, president.

Mrs. Eleanor Jones was hostess recently at tea, honoring Miss Margaret Manns, of Atlanta.

Mrs. Charles Varnedoe entertained at tea recently in honor of Mrs. Lester Harris.

Mrs. Emely Green was hostess Saturday at a theater party in compliment to Miss Lester, who celebrated her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. H. E. Whelchel entertained at bridge recently.

Dr. D. D. Gray is in Columbia, S. C.

Mrs. Sara Gilliland is convalescing after an appendicitis operation at Crawford Long hospital.

Mrs. S. S. Harris is visiting her daughter, Mrs. William Boyce, in Charlotte, N. C.

J. D. Conley has returned from Cleveland, Ohio, where he attended a convention.

Mrs. Frances Morris is visiting Mrs. R. E. Herring in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Jeanette Ratliff, of Raymond, Miss., is visiting her sister, Mrs. B. D. Gray.

Garrison Webb, of Greensboro, N. C., recently visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Webb.

Major and Mrs. Ralph Andrews, of Lewisburg, W. Va., left Saturday for Jacksonville, Fla., where Major Andrews will be connected with the Boyles school.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hutchins, of Shreveport, La., left recently for Columbia, S. C., after a visit to relatives in College Park and Atlanta.

Mrs. Scott Nixon, of Augusta, was recent guest of her sister, Miss Martha H. Jones.

Mrs. Wallace Sittion entertained recently for members of her bridge club.

Mrs. D. M. Berry entertained recently for her club members.

Mrs. Frank Vary, of Tampa, Fla., was recent guest of Mrs. George Atkinson.

The Ladies' Guild of the church will be in charge of refreshments.

Miss Gordy Becomes Bride of Dr. Eure At Grace Church

Miss Jacquelyn Gordy, the younger daughter of Mrs. Robert Gordy, became bride of Dr. L. Gardner Eure at a beautiful ceremony solemnized at 8:30 o'clock last evening at the Grace Methodist church. Lefty Gomez Slated To Oppose Carl Hubbell in Series Opener

Just when the first paragraph was written about Luke Appling and the American league batting champion, Billy Beard came in...

Billy Beard—the Party from the South...

And pretty soon we were deep in the old minstrel days—the parades in the long line dusters, the umbrellas...

And John Healy, the old man with the Al G. Fields Minstrels, who came out in that great makeup as Old Black Joe and sang the song—doing a soft shoe dance routine at the conclusion—with the cotton fields and cabin drop and the chorus humming behind him. He's dead now, is John Healy, but I can hear him yet...

He always read the Cincinnati Inquirer, did John Healy... I can set him yet, with the spot on him...

And Billy Church, the fat tenor, and his partner, Jack Richards. Richards was Welsh. "And when the Welsh have a voice they have plenty of it..." usually they were in Colonial costume, with wigs and knee pants and Church's legs always seemed about to bust out of the silk and satin. And they sang some "class" ballad, with Church hitting a high note and the house all quiet—and breaking into applause. Church is married and living in Cincinnati and doesn't sing any more. But when they sang "Darling I Am Growing Old"...

standing at one corner of the stage and the spot on them... and then the applause.

Lasses White—with his high, keen voice and the putty makeup which made his head stick up inches in the back...

Bert Swor, with his deep voice—

And Billy Beard, the Party from the South...

I remember their act, when minstrels began to go—the street drop and the card game...

They don't have songs any more—not like the songs they used to sing in minstrels.

Billy Beard broke in singing, "Rufus Rastus Johnson Brown, what you gonna do when de rent comes 'roun'..." that was long ago with the Wells minstrels...

"Gimme Hush Money Or I'll Tell On You."

"L-O-V-E Spells Trouble to Me."

"Taint No Disgrace to Run When You Is Scared."

"If I Could See as Far in Front as I Can See Behind."

"If I Should Die Before I Wake, How'll I Know When I'm Dead?"

"I'd Rather Be On the Outside Lookin' In, Than On the Inside Lookin' Out..."

There was a story to all those songs, a philosophy and real humor... it was never necessary to have a suggestive line or a hidden meaning...

Bert Williams was singing—

"I Ain't Never Done Nothing to Nobody—No Time."

"My Landlady!" "Jus' like a ghost she comes a creepin'

"Roun' yo' do she stahs a sweepin'!"

Diz Says Cards Not Fit To Play In Bush League

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 28.—(UP) Jerome (Dizzy) Dean, who frequently and publicly has characterized himself as a true "major league" today declared that his team, the St. Louis Cardinals, "isn't even fit to play in a bush league."

Still smarting from the loss of yesterday's closing game with the Chicago Cubs during which his teammates let in three runs on a single hit and glaring errors, Dean said that only the Cardinals were fit to play major league baseball. He named Pepper Martin, Joe Medwick, Leo Durocher and, of course, Dean himself.

"The Cards can't hit for sour apples and their fielding is worse," Dean asserted. "I don't give a hang if they don't sign me next year. I would only sign my share to win the pennant, but how do you do it with a bush league club?"

With considerable modesty for him, Dean asserted that Carl Hubbell is "the best pitcher in the major league." Diz admitted that Hubbell will win two World Series games, but doubted whether the Giants will win any more than that.

BARONS ENTER DIXIE SERIES WITH 7-6 WIN

Birmingham Rallies To Take Third in Row From Pelicans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 28.—(UP)—The Birmingham Barons entered the Southern association Shaughnessy playoff and the right to meet the winner of the Texas league playoff in the Dixie Series by defeating New Orleans, 7 to 6, before 3,500 fans here tonight.

The Alabamians' victory was the third of the four-game series, yesterday's game having ended in a 3-3 tie. The Barons will travel to Birmingham tomorrow to begin play for the Dixie Series. Arrangements will not be completed until the current series between Dallas and Tulsa ends.

WIN IN NINTH.

Birmingham won tonight's game in the ninth inning after overcoming a big Pelicans rally up to the first and eighth innnings, the deciding run was made off Ralph Winegarner, the fourth hurler sent to the mound by Larry Gilbert.

In the fatal ninth, Sanford walked after Overman fanned, went to second on a wild pitch, then singled him in with a sharp drive to center field.

Jonas Butzman started for the Peas and gave up only two hits and one run in the first six innnings. He ran into trouble in the seventh when Birmingham scored two runs on hits by sophomore inmates of Cinciboo, Bill Thomas replaced Butzman after Cinciboo singled and retired the side.

IN TROUBLE.

"Big Bill," however, quickly got into deep water in the ninth innning when hit by Clancy, Palmisano and James, coupled with an error by himself, Thomas, counted for two runs.

Ralph Winegarner replaced Thomas and was greeted with a two-bagger by Trapp, which scored Palmisano with the tying run.

It's amazing but true that Riggs is a great pitcher, he is a great pitcher. He can't back shot that seems impossible. Watching him do it, you say it can't be done. And yet he does it.

OLD SLEWFoot.

Old slwofoot. That's what they call Riggs, who has a gait reminiscent of Charlie Chaplin. He shuffles around and manages to be in the right place most of the time for difficult returns.

That's the secret of his success it seems. That is, his anticipation. They are anticipation greater than realization. But the saying isn't true in tennis.

Riggs seems to have a sort of tennis sixth sense that tells him what the other fellow is going to do. And he's seldom caught out of position.

In last Sunday's match he kept the ball deep to Grant. Seldon did Bitsy have an opportunity to come to the net. And when he did, Riggs would pass him.

FINE LOB SHOTS.

Inexorable lob shots, placed either short or deep, at one stage caused Grant to yell—"please go out!" Riggs had run Grant until it seemed he must either drop or yell "Uncle!"

Riggs had command of the situation in the first two sets. He made incredible gets and served numerous aces, and when he lobbed, he would drop the ice and mix 'em up. Sometimes he serves a high bouncer that hops into the receiver and again he smashes the ball into the corner of the service court.

Then, too, just to add variety he doesn't stand always in the same position to serve. That is to say he may serve from the middle line one time and the next time he may stand in the corner.

He's very colorful, is Bobby Riggs, the 18-year-old prodigy. He attended the University of Miami for three years and has since graduated. He is a native of California for Florida, that he deems it a privilege to meet Grant in a return match.

BITSY READY.

Grant is most anxious to play Riggs again. In fact, he has already started to daily practice at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Grant and Riggs will play a two-out-of-three sets match Sunday, starting at 2:30. This assures the fans of a finished match, a fight to the finish and the very best tennis seen anywhere in the world on clay.

A doubles match featuring Grant and Russell Bobbitt versus Riggs and a partner yet to be named will also include on the program, according to Marion Reese, who is putting on the match.

TOWNS, PACKARD FETED AT ATHENS

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 28.—Civil club of Athens clapped the hands of President Harmon W. Caldwell of the university with appropriate remarks when the two Atlanta football teams, the Cardinals and the Marist, were feted at a dinner held at the Georgian hotel.

After a gold watch was presented by Mayor Tom Mell, the program included short talks by the president and the Atlanta Athletic Club, J. Stegeman, Coach Waems Baskin and sports writers. Bobbs Packard, spring ace, made a short reply. Towns modestly responded with a bow. The reception was arranged by General Chairman A. D. Robertson.

In honoring Towns, President Caldwell said he was "presenting the top ten in the history of the civic and coaching staff of the university."

He bears an inscription, "Lone Eagle" and a card with the name of the coach, Charles A. Lindbergh.

Previously the college had paid tribute to Towns and Packard with the statement that "their names will go down in the annals of history as among the greatest athletes ever produced at Georgia."

"Citizens should acknowledge to the athletes as well as to their coaches their gratitude," he said. "In the time I have been at the university I have seen very few things so dramatic as their rise in sports."

Athletic Director Stegeman received a great hand as he bowed, but declined to say anything further than he was "glad to be here." Coach Baskin, tutor of the two honorees, said he was glad to pay tribute to both of them. Stegeman, he said, "I didn't believe that two boys with the same ability could be found at the university within the next 10 years."

BITSY AND RIGGS IN RETURN TILT HERE ON SUNDAY

Masters of Clay Courts Agree To Decide 4-Set Deadlock.

By Jack Troy.

The two finest clay court players in the world will play a return match here Sunday afternoon at the old Biltmore Tennis Club.

Arrangements were completed yesterday for Bobby Riggs, national champion, Bitsy Grant, twice national champion, and a Davis cup player, to meet again and attempt to arrive at a decision.

Riggs and Riggs staged the greatest match Atlantans ever have had the privilege of witnessing last Sunday. Riggs won the first two sets, Grant the last two.

THE CONSTITUTION

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Information

CLOSING HOURS

Want Ads are accepted up to 9 p.m. for publication the next day. The closing hour for the Sunday edition is 8:30 p.m. on Saturday.

LOCAL CLASSIFIED RATES

Daily and Sunday rates per line for consecutive insertions:

One time 27 cents
Three times 19 cents
Six times 17 cents
Thirty times 13 cents
Minimum, 2 lines (12 words).

10% Discount for Cash

In estimating the space to an ad figure six average words to a line.

Ads ordered for three or seven days and stopped before expiration will not be charged for the number of times originally ordered, unless adjustments made at the rate earned.

Errors in advertisements should be reported immediately. The Constitution will not be responsible for more than one correct insertion.

All want ads are restricted to their present place of residence and the Constitution reserves the right to refuse or reject any advertisement.

Ads ordered by telephone are accepted from persons listed in the telephone or directory, and are subject to a random charge only. In return for this courtesy, the advertiser is expected to remit promptly.

lots—A game last night brought on a fight which ended up with pistol shots."

I heard all that and as a kid in school used to pay two bits to sit in the peanut gallery and see John Drew in "Pendennis," and Mrs. Fiske and Jimmy Powers and Chauncey Alcott; and Cyril Maude in "Grumpy," and David Warfield in "The Music Master," and the people all crying when he said, "If no one else wants her I do . . . and Maude Adams in "Peter Pan," and—well, they don't have them any more.

Billy Beard, the Party from the South, just about ruined my day.

WELL, ANYHOW, LUKE APPLING.

Well, anyhow, Luke Appling did win the American league batting championship.

I remember one day last spring. The telephones kept ringing and wires kept coming from Chicago and Pasadena. And Luke Appling, in Atlanta, was holding out for more money.

He signed the next day, or rather accepted terms, and headed for California. He had promised to be worth the money.

I guess there will be more telephone calls and wires next spring. The boy is worth still more money. And he'll get it.

He batted .388 for the season and became the first shortstop ever to lead the American league. He gives much of the credit to Jimmy Dykes, who helped steady him at shortstop.

Appling will winter in Atlanta. Which means he will hunt and fish and play a little golf.

He broke in with the Crackers and played less than one season before he was sold to the White Sox. The White Sox finished third this year. Far ahead of the expensive Red Sox.

And a batting average of .388 was largely responsible for it. If Tom Yawkey gave a cool quarter of a million for Joe Cronin, wonder what Luke Appling is worth.

THE WORLD SERIES.

In their last three World Series, the New York Yankees have won 12 straight games, beating Pittsburgh, the Cardinals and the Cubs four straight each year.

They are the favorites this year. And if they can beat Carl Hubbell they may make it four straight over the Giants.

The Yankees have scored about 250 more runs this year than have the Giants. And while their pitching staff boasts no Hubbell (as who's staff does?), they have a fair pitching staff. It's squarely up to Hubbell—he will have to win at least two—or three—to get the Giants in.

There is no way to check the respective merits of the rival pitching staffs. But until they are checked it looks like the Yankees.

JACKETS SHOWN
NEW PLAYS; BIG BATTLE FOR ENDLeft Terminal Berth Is Open; Line Gets Contact Work.

By Jack Troy.

Those Tech Jackets, who have their signs down to a pretty fine point, were given some new plays in a long while yesterday at the Rose Bowl.

The players tried out in a semi-practice scrimmage and had a good day and appeared very deceptive, indeed. In fact, you might say they were very successful, for the varsity worked them for brilliant gains.

There really was contact work for the linemen only as the Jackets went to work in preparation for the Se- meon game, first conference engagement Saturday afternoon at Grant field.

"Ole Koon" Konemann displayed a couple of bursts of speed in the open field during the short scrimmage that almost knocked Mr. Tess Bradshaw off his seat on the sidelines. That is to say, Mr. Bradshaw was prodded by the team's Coach. More expects to "see some real work" this week.

GREAT CHANGE OF PACE.

Koon darted in and out with a great change of pace and the freshmen hardly laid a hand on him.

Both the girls occupied large parts of the field, practiced by Sims and Lawrence Hayes, and the tossing expertly, with Konemann, Fats Jordan, Ed Jones and Harry Appleby, for the most part, doing the football star of Notre Dame.

MERCER SCARE
SEEMS TO HELP
BULLDOG TEAMGeorgia Inspired, But Scouts Report Furman Dangerous Foe.

By Felton Gordon.

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 28.—Inspired rather than daunted by their narrow score victory over Mercer in the son's opener Saturday, Georgia Bulldogs began operations here this afternoon in interest of hurdling Furman University here next Saturday.

Although indications are that every man who saw service in the opener will be ready for the second contest, a sort of post-bellum atmosphere hung over the camp. Coach Moore expects to "see some real work" this week.

The Bulldog mentor showed what observers diagnosed as symptoms of "Furman phobia." Scouts Weems Bass and Johnny Broadnax brought back news that the Hurricane is a considerable improvement over last season. The Dizzy McLeod team defeated Wofford College, 31-0 last Saturday.

The four were treated at Grady hospital and dismissed.

An accident at Hamilton and Main street, East Point, Philip Manning suffered injuries to his legs.

Police reported that Manning fainted upon slumping from a street car at the intersection. He was struck by an auto, they reported, driven by G. M. Kilgore, of College Park.

Kilgore told police he did not see Manning, who was trying to stop, and said he swerved his machine in an effort to pass the fallen man between his wheels. One wheel, however, ran over Manning's legs. Kilgore was exonerated of blame. Manning was taken to Georgia Baptist hospital, where his condition was said to be not serious.

TACKLE VICTIM.

Play of the entire Georgia team was not up to the standards set for them before the season. Tackle seemed to be the direction of most of the Mercer offense.

The close shave in the inaugural, however, is taken by many as a "blessing." They say that probably the squad will have a better complete than if they had won a whirlwind triumph.

Co-Captain J. C. Hall and Harry Harman were somewhat lame in practice today. Hall slightly injured a knee in the collision. Harman suffered a pulled muscle in his back. He participated in the light day but Harman was withheld despite his expressed desire to take part.

Other minor casualties in the game, for which records are predicted this week, included: Walter Troutman's injured shoulder; Maurice Green's injured knee; and Maurice Konemann's ankle.

And the fact remains that Morgan, perhaps, is the stronger defensive player than Jones, who is a most interesting tussle.

The Morgan boy is battling for a job and Jones will have to step on it to keep his regular varsity rating. Another most promising end is Sophomore George Smith, a brother of a late Smith who was an outstanding gridironer in the P. C. game.

Smith is a sub for Jordan, however.

And Jordan is not close to being dismissed, as he is an end from the bench.

More deceptiveness is coming into the jacket attack. Koon Konemann, a real threat, may carry the ball in the some of the games. But he'll be in there running at positions that might make it seem he should get the ball.

He may or may not get it. Or if he does, he may not run, but pass. He'll be the chief threat, anyway. It will tend to keep opponents guessing.

And when they least expect it, opponents may find Konemann breathing on their necks, or vice versa.

PUNTING IMPROVES.

It seems that Tech is picking up in punting. Sims and Hays are getting more, high and tight. This was apparent in a punting drill yesterday.

Some of the regulars going down were heard to remark, "they're kicking the fire out of the ball." And such was the case.

Old grads, of course, were vastly encouraged by the extra point kicking of the first game. They were looking more, high and tight.

And when they least expect it, opponents may find Konemann breathing on their necks, or vice versa.

RUGGERS SLATED TO TAKE MOUND.

but would not say definitely who would go to the mound Thursday.

Terry said that Hubbell definitely will pitch the opener. The southpaw also hopes for warm weather.

"I've had most of my bad days in cold weather this year," he said.

YANKS BIG FAVORITE.

Hubbell spent most of the practice period shaming flies and talking to reporters. With "Hub" on the mound, the Giants will still favor 3:5 to 3 to take the opener, but the Yanks will pitch the opener. The southpaw also hopes for warm weather.

"I've had most of my bad days in cold weather this year," he said.

RIVERS WILL ATTEND MEETING AT COLUMBUS.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Governor-elect E. D. Rivers will be among the guests to attend the hearing here Wednesday of the feasibility of improving the Chattahoochee river channel, it was announced today.

The hearing will be held at the Columbus Civic Center after a session of the board of county commissioners.

His retirement came in 1932 at the age of 65. He was elected county commissioner in the fall of that year and was re-elected in the September 9 primary.

He was a member of the Macon Rotary Club and of the Vineville Methodist church.

Mr. Weaver married Miss Anna Stephen, of Crawfordville.

Mr. Weaver, a great-niece of Alexander Hamilton Stephens, died January 4, 1935.

To Mr. and Mrs. Weaver were born six children, five of whom survive their parents. They are W. M. Weaver Jr., a purchasing agent for the Bibb Manufacturing Company; Mrs. A. H. G. Weaver, Macon physician; W. H. Weaver, member of a local law firm; Jack N. Weaver, in the New York office of the Bibb Manufacturing Company, and Miss Anna Weaver, principal of Lanier High school for girls. One daughter died in childhood.
